Father Jim's Thoughts for the week...

Do you tend to get frustrated in your faith? Do you overthink what God is calling you to do each day? Do you ever feel that you just can't measure up to the lives of the Saints in today's world?

Saint Bonaventure says, "What is more, the extent of our faith is the measure of the wisdom which God has given us. Thus, no one should overestimate his wisdom; instead, he should soberly make his assessment according to the extent of the faith which God has given him."

I like to remember that the Lord is calling me to embrace the faith that He has given me to do His Will with the tools He has given me. What does this mean for my spiritual anxiety? It means that too often I, and we all, might become stressed trying to figure out a spiritual puzzle the Lord didn't give us to solve. The teaching of Christ's Church on earth is the roadmap we are given to navigate this wilderness of life, but without faith, that roadmap can quickly become faded and blurry and lack potency. Nothing replaces time with our Lord in prayer to gain that potency back when we are too overwhelmed in life. The more I pray, the more I learn how to pray. I only ever learn how to pray, well by first, knowing what it feels like to pray poorly through experience. So, pray with me today and don't overthink it. Just dive right in!

God our Father, I profess my faith in your Holy Name. I know you see much farther than I can on the path of my life. These recent things are currently causing me stress in my life. I name them now to you _____, _____, _____.

I also know that you are working out all things at the Holy Spirit's pace, which is much slower than my distracted mind. These are signs of hope you have recently given me; _____, _____, _____. I see them, I receive them, I trust in Your Holy Will.

Lord, you afford me challenges in this life so that I learn to grow and become a little detached from false earthly promises and stretch my earthly comfort zones ...learning to trust in you. Job showed us how to remain faithful even in uncertainty and he taught us always to pray for others as we wait for restoration of peace in small matters and in large ones too.

I pray for these people today who need my prayers:

_____, _____, _____, _____, _____, _____, _____, _____, _____, _____.

Job 42: 9b-10a

"And the Lord accepted the intercession of Job. Also, the Lord restored the prosperity of Job, after he had prayed for his friends."

Children's Liturgy of the Word Corner

Fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time: 1 Corinthians 9:16-19; 22-23; Psalm 40; Mark 1:29-39

Prayer of the Day: Caring God, to make this world happy and peaceful as you want it we must work hard at loving and helping all people. See how weak we are; make us strong to do your work, because without you we can do nothing. We ask you to do this through Jesus, you Son.

First Corinthians is Paul writing to them. He explains the reason he preaches is because God told him to. Paul also says that he feels God calling him so strongly that he cannot say no. We have to remember that Paul was a strong believer in his Jewish faith, and so would persecute anyone who followed Jesus. That is until one day Jesus appeared to Paul and changed his life completely. Paul wants us to have that same feeling of healing and salvation. Mark's gospel has a healing story as well, but a different kind. Jesus is visiting Simon and Andrew and find their mother ill. Jesus goes to her and takes her by the hand. She is immediately well and starts to serve everyone there. The news of her healing spread quickly, and that evening many people came to be healed by Jesus. The next morning Jesus went off to pray alone. When Simon found him, Jesus said it was time to travel to other towns and share the Good News with the others. So, Jesus began his teaching around Galilee.

ATTENTION ALL WOMEN

We're excited to announce that 17 women have registered for the new Bible study! It will begin on Tuesday February 13th (before Lent starts - yes Fat Tuesday!) and wrap up on March 19th (before Easter). There will be a morning session at 9 - 11 am AND also an afternoon session at 1 - 3 pm! It's not too late to sign up, but we ask that you try to do so by January 31st, so we can determine how many books are needed (cost of $20). Even if you miss this deadline, the books seem to ship quickly, so come & join us!

The Bible Study is entitled Reclaiming Friendship and explores God's plan to help us make authentic connections with other women. If you would like to join this Bible study, please contact Sandy Black at 724-479-3679 or sandyblack@verizon.net or Marie Kirsch at 724-254-3041 or mhkirsch@dioceseofgreensburg.org. Also, please include which session you would be attending so we can plan accordingly.

All are welcome. Everyone is at a different stage in their life, but in this group, we strive to meet women where they are in their lives. So, come as you are & see where we can go together in 'reclaiming friendships' & starting new ones.
